

The Alaska Performance Scholarship

An Invitation to Careers

Students in the welding technology program at the University of Alaska Anchorage are on the path to well-paying careers.

Welders earn
$40,000 to start.

In Alaska, training is available in dozens of careers in demand, such as culinary, health care, automotive, aviation, mining, maritime, office support, information technology, drafting and construction.

Courtesy University of Alaska

Scholarships for Career Training

THE ALASKA PERFORMANCE SCHOLARSHIP can be applied to many career and technical programs in Alaska. Ask your high school counselor how to earn scholarships worth up to $4,755 a year.

aps.alaska.gov

