Mining and Petroleum Training Service

The Mining and Petroleum Training Service (MAPTS) was established by the University of Alaska in 1979 to deliver training, development, and consulting services to the resource industries of Alaska. MAPTS mission is to provide timely and professional training to individuals in the resource industries, business, and government with the purpose of putting Alaskans to work in Alaska jobs.

MAPTS training programs include:

- IADC WellSharp Control
- Mine Safety and Health Administration (MSHA) Compliance
- Rural Heavy Equipment Operator Training Camp
- Underground Mine Training Camp and Surface Mine Training Camp
- Customized Industry Camps

MAPTS clients include Alaska mining and petroleum companies, federal, state, and municipal agencies, Alaska Native corporations, environmental firms, and industrial health and safety organizations.

2025 Safety Expo

Join Associated Builders and Contractors (ABC) Alaska and Alaska Safety Alliance for the 2025 Safety Expo! Events will take place on May 16 in Anchorage at the BP Energy Center and on May 30 in Fairbanks at the J.P. Jones Center. Both events are free and open to the public – anyone is welcome to come visit the safety vendors and food trucks.

There will be several free training sessions offered by volunteer instructors at both events – pre-registration is required and attendees must be 18+ years old. Registration is not required to attend the exhibit areas.
